

OUIGO is the SNCF low-cost train offer for high-speed rail with only online sales. OUIGO has been launched in February 2013 in order to complete the range of trains operating in France (TGV, iDTGV, Intercités, etc ...)

Pierre Matuchet, Directeur Marketing et Systemes d'Information SNCF Voyages, commented: "In view of our ambitious plans for OUIGO, there was an immediate need for a robust and state of the art sales and distribution platform to replace our existing software."

Fabrice Flottes de Pouzols, CIO/CDO of iDTGV and OUIGO, added: "iDTGV has selected Sqills' S3 Passenger meeting all the requirements for the OUIGO offer, positive experiences by other system users, proven out of the box functionality, time to market, financial license model and the Sqills team's extreme reactivity to deliver new functionalities!"
