The company was founded in 2014 by rail professional Steve Derrick, whose 40 year plus career instilled in him a desire to bring together other like-minded colleagues, all sharing a common goal to help bring out the best in clients across the rail sector. All of our consultants bring with them a particular set of skills and experience from many years in the rail industry meaning they can 'hit the ground running' incredibly beneficial in building trust and getting to the detail quickly.

With extensive experience in the rail industry, our consultants are able to draw on a wealth of experience, from frontline rail operations through to the boardroom with the common aim of delivering expert support and advisory services. Our motivation is to provide clients with outstanding outcomes:

- ✓ By helping clients achieve their goals...
- ✓ Through strategic and technical expert advice...
- ✓ From the frontline through to the boardroom.

Specialising in Rail Operations, Projects & Engineering, Safety & Assurance and Rail Training, AARCPS is built on professionalism, collaboration and a friendly, though determined ethos, with a commitment to:

- ✓ Provide transparent, timely advice/guidance...
- ✓ Deliver value-added solutions...
- ✓ Complete all work on time, to budget and to the highest standards/quality...
- ✓ Benefit the wider rail industry.

We see all our clients as unique, tailoring our services to their specific needs. We are happy to work independently where required, but strongly advocate the benefits of teamwork, actively encouraging collaborative relationships and aligning ourselves to the client's respective organisation for the duration of the engagement. With a growing pool of rail professionals, we have experience and expertise in depth.

In brief, clients can expect our consultants to:

- ✓ Directly interface with them across every stage of the project...
- ✓ Provide early identification and mitigation of issues...
- ✓ Make sure outputs meet expectations...
- ✓ Undertake continuous quality control to deliver excellent results.

Director level support and ongoing client feedback provide further assurance of a first-class service.
